SIERRA MADRE NEWS

PUBLISHED WEEKLY | SIERRA MADRE, LOS ANGELES COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1916 | VOL. XI, NO. 6

Cal. Puts Wilson Ahead; Randall Winner by 11,000

FINE VOTE TO WILSON AND RANDALL IN SIERRA MADRE; FIRST 'DRY' MAJORITY HERE

California did it.

And Sierra Madre had a hand in the doing of it.

Woodrow Wilson is re-elected president, with the electoral vote of California swinging the total to his side.

Sierra Madre's part in the job lay in giving the president a vote considerably more than double the Democratic registration. It was not to be expected that the democratic ticket would poll an actual majority in a town where the Democrats constitute about one-eighth of the total registration.

Wilson's Big Gain

Comparing the 218 votes for Wilson on Tuesday with the 101 he received in 1912, a gain of 116 per cent is shown. There was a republican gain as well, but it was only 86 per cent.

Randall Big Winner

Congressman Randall, who is about 11,000 ahead of Bell in the district, also showed very large gains over the vote given him in Sierra Madre in 1914. At that time he received 131 votes, or 25 per cent of the total. This year he receives 261 votes, or 44 per cent of the total. Bell's vote of 301 is an increase of one-third over his 1914 vote, while Randall's vote was doubled. This remarkable increase comes in the face of a vicious fight, which, however, was so plain in its personal animus as to defeat itself with many voters.

The vote in Sierra Madre was about the same as in the other foothill towns where the citrus fruit tariff argument was used successfully for Bell. The only exceptions were those towns in which the "dry" vote was so strong as to overshadow the tariff argument. But in Alhambra, So. Pasadena, Long Beach, Highland Park and Glendale the vote for Randall ran as high as 3 to 1.

The effect of the citrus tariff argument may be traced in the three precincts of Sierra Madre. In No. 1 which Randall carried there is practically no citrus acreage. Bell won the other precincts where a poll showed the vote of the fruit growers to be influenced by that argument.

Sierra Madre Votes Dry

Sierra Madre voted "dry" for the first time in its history, on a local or statewide proposition. On Amendment No. 1, declaring for absolute prohibition, Sierra Madre gave a majority of 59. On Amendment No. 2 Sierra Madre gave a majority of 114 for partial prohibition. Local "dry' enthusiasts were greatly delighted at the result.

Large Total Vote

The largest vote was polled on the head of the ticket. The total in all three precincts was 637, the largest vote ever cast in Sierra Madre at an election.

Total registrations for Sierra Madre are about 800, but these include some removals and the vote cast was probably about 85 per cent of the possible voters.

Election Day Quiet

Dividing of the town into precincts has had the effect of diminishing interest in elections as compared with the days when the whole town gathered at one polling place. Election day was really less exciting in Sierra Madre than the day after when all were eager for the latest news bulletins.

Tabulated Returns

Complete returns for Sierra Madre on the whole ballot are given on this page in tabulated form. With the exception of the presidency the vote seems to be in accord with the final result on all elective offices. With the exception of the two "dry" propositions the vote seems to be in accord with that of the rest of the state on the seven propositions in the last column.

On election night Western Union Bulletins were received by direct wire at Sanders' Drug Store. The service was said by many to be better than they had been able to find in Los Angeles.

NEXT RED CROSS MEETING TUESDAY

The usual meeting of the Red Cross chapter will be held next Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the chapter headquarters. This will be the first meeting of the new fiscal year, with Mrs. M. D. Welsher as president.

In last week's report of chapter activities, the reference to a donation of $25 to the "American Relief Fund" should have read to the Armenian Relief fund. The chapter was gratified to be able to make this response to the call from national headquarters for aid for the starving Armenians. Food will be purchased and a shipment sent under government auspices direct to Armenia. Proceeds of the recent cooked food sale for the Armenian Relief Fund were more than $9.00.

New members recently added are Mrs. C. S. Kersting, Mrs. F. D. R. Moote, Miss Verna Trible and Mr. Alex Stone.

MOVIE FANS DEMAND CONTINUED SHOWS

Club Will not Quit While Sufficient Patronage Keeps Up

Announcement that last Saturday night's moving picture show would be the last at the Woman's Club House until after the holidays aroused a storm of protest among patrons. So strong was the demand for continuance of the weekly film programs that the management has agreed to go ahead as long as the patronage will justify it.

Tomorrow night's feature will be the Gaumont drama in five acts: "As A Woman Sows." Gertrude Robinson and Alexander Gaden are the stars. The story is said to have well sustained heart interests and a satisfactory ending.

CLUB WILL HEAR TALK ON LANDMARKS

Monday's meeting of the club will be under the direction of Mrs. W. J. Saunders who will present Mrs. A. S .C. Forbes, the district Federation chairman of Landmarks. Her talk will be on Landmarks with special reference to historical facts of our onw locality.

SOCIAL MEETING INVITATION TO ALL

All Masons and their wives, all members of the Eastern Star and any and all who are eligible to the O. E. S., are cordially invited to be present at a social meeting given by the members of the chapter at 8 o'clock next Tuesday evening, November 14, at the Masonic Hall.

RED CROSS STAMPS BRING CHILDREN CASH

Christmas Seals Now Here and Are to be Sold on Commission

Christmas Seals prepared by the Society for the Study and Prevntion of Tuberculosis have been received by Mrs. Jensen, the municipal nurse, and will be placed on sale next week. As in the past, the sale will be entrusted to the school children.

Cash commissions will be paid the children, 20 per cent being allowed on sales in any amount up to $20. Any child selling $20 worth will be given a special prize in the form of a 25 per cent commission.

On Sale Next Week

Stamps will be given out to the school children at the Helping Station on Windsor Lane next Monday and Tuesday afternoons after the close of school. Mrs. Jensen who is on her vacation has left the distribution of stamps in the hands of Misses Avis and Myrtie Preston, who who will be at the Helping Station to give them out.

As in the past, the most of the proceeds from the sale of these Christmas Seals are kept for use among the indigent sick in Sierra Madre. A considerable sum has been realized in other years.

Mrs. Amelia Jensen left Thursday for Fresno where she will be the guest of her niece for a short time. From there she will go to Portersville and spend the remainder of her vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. J. Beck.

ANOTHER NEWSPAPER

Percy F. Adelsbach, the well known newspaper man, who recently returned from Washington, D. C., where he served as secretary to Congressman C. H. Randall, will shortly establish a newspaper at Covina, to be called the "Citizen."

A committee of prominent Covina citizens made Mr. Adelsbach an unusually attractive offer to establish a newspaper there. The "Citizen" will begin publication with a paid-up list of upwards of 750 individual subscribers.

Elaborate arrangements have already been made to give the new editor and his newspaper a public reception when his first issue appears. There is to be a banquet in honor of the event, and Mr. Adelsbach will be the guest of honor.

A complete, fully equipped plant will be installed, and it will be the purpose of the new publisher to produce a model newspaper, both as to the text and its mechanical appearance.

Mr. Adelsbach is regarded as a highly successful newspaper man, and he will, no doubt, put Covina on the newspaper map in a way that will bring much credit to that community.—Redondo Reflex.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY TO HOLD MEETING

The Missionary Society of the Congregational Church will meet next Tuesday at 2:30 P. M. at the church. Miss Rice a returned Missionary from Sivas, Turkey, well give a talk on the Armenians. All are invited.

WORK IS STARTED ON GAY BUILDING

Undertaking Establishment to Be Erected at Central and Hermosa

Work has been started on the new undertaking establishment of Allen T. Gay, at the northeast corner of Central and Hermosa. Plans have been drawn by C. C. Nourse for a two story building, with ground dimensions 36x80. Exterior walls will be finished in white plaster and the plant will be modern in every respect.

The ground floor will be devoted to quarters for the undertaking business. On the second floor will be the living quarters which will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Gay. While planning for the new building Mr. Gay visited every important undertaking establishment from Los Angeles to Riverside in search of new ideas. He has incorporated the best of what he found in his plans and expects to have one of the best arranged plants in the state. G. H. Clark is the contractor.

LOCAL ARTISTS WIN HEARTIEST PLAUDITS

Red Cross Benefit Program Is Delight to a Large Audience

One of the most genuinely enjoyable and thoroughly meritorious musical programs heard in Sierra Madre in a long time was that at the Red Cross Benefit on Friday night, in connection with the lecture by Dr. Stookey. It was particularly gratifying in view of the fact that the chief performers were Sierra Madre young ladies.

Miss Kathleen Lockhart was heard publicly in Sierra Madre for the first time. Her rich, well trained voice and delightful personality made her numbers extremely pleasing. The violin numbers of Miss Lalla Fagge were a new revelation of her musicianship and mastery of the instrument. Her exquisite tones and artistic interpretations gave deep pleasure to the most critical hearer. Miss Crowhurst at the piano, both in Miss Fagge's accompaniment and in solo work, showed the effect of her fine training under the best foreign masters.

Lecture Interesting

Dr. Stookey's illustrated lecture on "The Transportation of the Wounded" on the European battle fronts was intensely interesting. He told of personal experiences and showed stereopticon pictures of scenes he had witnessed. He also showed many pictures, direct and X-ray, to illustrate the wonders of modern surgery and the part it is doing to save the wreckage of humanity in the great conflict.

FAREWELL RECEPTION FOR THE STAFFS

To give an opportunity for a farewell greeting to Rev. Fred Stan and family who leave next week for their future home in Colorado Springs, a reception will be held in the Congregational Church parlors next Monday evening. All friends are invited to be present, whether members of the church or not.

PARENT-TEACHERS

The next meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, November 15th. in the Kindergarten building.

DONATIONS ARE REQUESTED FOR THANKSGIVING

Every year for some time past the Helping Station under direction of Mrs. Jensen has been the center from which Thanksgiving cheer has been widely distributed among people who might not otherwise have much to remind them of the occasion. Baskets of food, delicacies and other essentials of a real Thanksgiving have been sent out both to people in poor circumstances and to persons whose separation from family and friends might have made the day otherwise disspiriting.

Before going on her vacation Mrs. Jensen assigned her charity committee to take charge of this work and the committee named Mrs. Howard Hill as Chairman. Donations of money are greatly desired, and may be made to Mrs. Hill. Persons who will donate canned or fresh fruit, vegetables or other food are requested to have them taken to the Helping Station on Windsor Lane at least as early as the day before Thanksgiving.

"FACING THE MUSIC" FOR BAZAAR PLAY

Preparations Under Way for the Episcopal Guild's Annual Entertainment

The annual bazaar to be held by the ladies of the Episcopal Guild is announced for November 22 and 23rd. The event will include the usual holiday sale afternoons and evenings, a chicken dinner, and a play on both evenings by some of the well known home talent.

The dramatic offering this year will be the three-act comedy, "Facing the Music." It is in course of preparation under direction of Mr. Norval McGregor. The play is full of humorous situations, clever dialogue and a stirring finish. Miss Edith Blumer whose clever work has contributed so much to the success of past performances, will have one of the leading parts. There will be eight in the cast. Reserved seats will be on sale next Wednesday at Hartman's drug store.

TENDERED SURPRISE ON ANNIVERSARY

Professor and Mrs. John J. Hart were the recipients of a surprise party on the eleventh anniversary of their weeding, on last Saturday evening. Those participating were, Captain and Mrs. J. A. Osgood, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Carhart, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. L. Dietz, Mr. and Mrs. William Webster Collins, Mrs. D. M. Wheeler, Mrs. Eleanor Collins, Harold Hart and Carl Hart. A delightful evening was spent with appropriate music by Harold Hart on the Piano-Accordian and delicious refreshments were served during which many good wishes for their future were expressed.

HISTORY OF LOCAL RED CROSS CHAPTER

Starting with the so-called unlucky number of 13 members, the local chapter of the American Red Cross has had a career of growth and prosperity from the beginning. It now has 170 members.

In the recent campaign for the trophy to be given the chapter with the largest membership in proportion to population, ten new members were influenced to join by Miss Abby Johnson and Mrs. M. D. Welsher has fifteen to her credit.

No news of the outcome of the contest has been received, but the local members are hopeful as the local chapter has about one member to every ten residents of Sierra Madre.

Upon the invitation of Mrs. F. P. Conard to spend the afternoon at her home on July 30th, 1915, and discuss war relief work, about 25 women responded. Led by Mrs. Cary R. Fagge, who had been very actively associated with the British Red Cross in Los Angeles, plans were discussed for the formation of an organization to carry on similiar work in Sierra Madre and it was decided to associate with the relief work of the American Red Cross. Miss Marian Vannier late superintendent of the childrens hospital in Los Angeles and an accredited Red Cross nurse spoke of the work of that organization and demonstrated the cutting out and making of bandages standardized by that organization.

Officers were elected as follows: Mrs. Cary B. Fagge, Pres. Mrs. F. P. Conard, vice pres.,Mrs. W. H. Ingraham, Sect., Mrs. L. N. Legendre, treas., the following women signing themselves as members with dues of 25c a month and bi-monthly meetings on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month: the Mmes. Nourse, Walker, Mabee, Wright, Hawkshurst, Humphries, Fagge, Legendre, Ingraham, Baugh, Rice, Saunders, Armstrong; Miss F. Vannier and Miss M. Vannier.

The Sierra Madre Clarified Dairy

Gives you the raw Milk. Clean, Sweet and Rich in flavor from our own herd of Tuberculine Tested Cows. The law emphasizes the fact that the Bacteria Test is the true index to the quality of milk. The U. S. A. Department score card for milk makes the Bacteria Count more than three times as important as Butterfat Test. The G. and H. Laborataries give our Count at 1700cc, the limit according to the new law is 100,000. Like the "Bean Stalk" our business is growing daily, and up to our present capacity—But, we will meet the requirements, and you will get the best from our Dairy. Phone Red 39—for wagon to call. L. R. COYOTES ARE BLAMED FOR RAIDS ON GAME

(Bulletin of Fish and Game Commission)

Much has been written about the depredations of the mountain lion on deer, and it is probable that each mature mountain lion in California kills from one to three deer weekly. The lion, however, does not thrive in civilization, and is becoming scarce except in remote places. A much greater menace to deer as well as all other game is the furtive coyote. The lion springs upon the biggest buck in the woods; carries him, kicking and struggling, as far as his panthership sees fit, and plays with him as a cat with a mouse; then kills him, often by holding him flat on his side while eating into his vitals. Finally he hides the remains very carefully scratching up all of the litter in a radius of ten feet, and making a neat mound which seldom fails to attract the attention of the passerby. Thus the story of the killing gets to the papers and is scattered to the four winds.

On the other hand, there is nothing of the spectacular about the coyote. His work is done in an insidious manner, without publicity or unnecessary grandstand plays. He readily adapts himself to changed conditions and, where constant warfare is not waged against him, will live and increase in thickly settled country. All mountainous parts of California are more or less infested with this pest, and while their most noticeable depredations are against sheep, hogs, and poultry, they take a constant and heavy toll from every kind of wild life, from cottontails and quail to deer. No birds nest within six feet of the ground is safe if one of these prowlers is about, and there are many instances of organized bands of from two to six coyotes running down and killing large, heavy antlered bucks.

In winters of heavy snowfall like the one just past, deer in large numbers become easy victims of coyotes. The deer are generally able to move about enough to secure food, but are helpless if attacked by coyotes, since they break through the crust when they attempt to escape, and soon become exhausted.

Giving venison a cash value of twenty cents per pound, it is a conservative estimate that $100,000 worth of venison is destroyed annually by coyotes. This, if coupled with the more tangible loss of sheep, hogs, and poultry, would make an alarming total.

This economic waste has been borne more or less passively by the people of the state in the past, but the recent outbreak of rabies among coyotes, which constitutes a serious menance to all branches of the stock industry as well as to human life, puts a new face on the matter. The coyote must be exterminated, and an organized, statewide campaign should be started at once which should include the state and federal officers of public health, all branches of the live stock industry, poultry raisers, and the State Game and Fish Commission.

VINDICATED

Regardless of the margin of victory, the re-election of President Wilson can be taken in no other way than as a vindication by the people of the United States. It will be so regarded by the rest of the world. The value of the race stake is in nowise diminished by the closeness of the result.

GREAT TRIBUTE TO CONGRESSMAN RANDALL

The size of the majority rolled up by Congressman Randall in the ninth district proved a surprise even to his friends, though they had never a doubt as to the result. His return for a second term with his original plurality multiplied by five is a splendid testimonial to his standing in the district. As the first Prohibitionist elected to the house, his excellent first term record made him the one outstanding advocate of prohibition in congress. Just as his defeat would have been a calamity of national scope to the temperance cause, so is his triumphant re-election a national triumph for that cause. That Mr. Randall will continue to be an efficient representative of his district goes without saying. Length of service begets prestige in congress. Mr. Randall's personal standing among his colleagues is high, according to all available testimony, and the district is to be congratulated upon retaining him for further service.

NOW FOR THE NATION DRY

Tremendous gains for prohibition in other states overshadow the result in California. With half the states of the union under prohibition laws and more to come in the next two years, both major parties will be compelled to recognize and declare for national prohibition as a vote-winning issue in 1920. If California dose not vote dry in 1918, the state will probably go dry with the rest of the country soon after the next national election. Indeed, it is not too much to say there is a strong likelihood of a national prohibition amendment being submitted to the states by congress before the campaign of 1920.

COMFORTING THOUGHT

If any of your Republican friends need comforting, just remind them that in all probability the Los Angeles Times has driven enough voters away from the party to have elected Hughes if they had staid.

HOARY PRECEDENTS LOSE PRESTIGE

This seems to have been a good year for upsetting political precedents. For instance there was the old belief that New York's electoral vote was necessary for success. It often prevented nomination of the best men and hampered meritorious legislation. Then it was said that the party with the largest war chest had always won and on that basis Hughes could not lose. Thank the Lord, it was a delusion and the proof came this year.

✦ ✦ ✦

A GOOD THANKSGIVING THOUGHT

Like the Esquimau who was astonished at nothing in New York, except the tallness of the trees, so Miss Dorothy Sampson of Chicago, who has recently returned from many years' continuous residence in Europe, comments chiefly on the large number of men on our American streets.

"In the cities of Europe," she said, "one sees only old men and cripples. If Americans could all experience the concontrast in this one thing alone, they would get down on their knees and thank God for peace."

SNATCHING VICTORY FROM DEFEAT

It hardly seemed that Providence could permit it to be otherwise, but when the news reports gave the edge to the president and persisted so, it seemed to his supporters almost too good to be true. They were then thankful that the other fellows had done their shouting first.

UNDER FALSE LABELS

Los Angeles afternoon papers ought to be prosecuted for selling goods under false pretenses. On Wednesday and Thursday they deliberately circulated extras with constantly changing scare heads which had no justification in the news columns. It was such a palpable effort to prey upon the public demand for authoritative news that prevailing comment characterized it as the rankest fraud.

✦ ✦ ✦

NOT TO SAY "TOLD YOU SO"

News readers may remember that this paper said about the move to nominate on "independent" congressional candidate that "all the forces of rum, revenge and reaction" would be united to beat Randall but they might keep their money and save their efforts, for it couldn't be done. If the contributors to that campaign fund had wanted a run for their money they ought to have gotten behind a live one instead of a "has been." They might have commanded more respect also if they had not depended so much on misrepresentation.

✦ ✦ ✦

MAKING BUSINESS FOR NERVE SPECIALISTS

Watching election returns this year was no fit occupation for people with weak hearts.

WHY RETURNS WERE SLOW

Because California was so slow in getting into line with the presidential count was taken by some people to mean that there was something radically wrong with the state's election machinery. As a matter of fact the count took no longer in this state than in other states. In states where one or the other candidate led by a wide margin, it was possible to forecast the result accurately long before the count was completed and the official figures compiled. In the close fights unofficial reports from the polling places could not be relied upon as sufficiently accurate. It was necessary to wait for the election officers in the various precincts to take the returns to the county seat where the official count could be secured. By the time the news gathering agencies had made accurate compilations from all over the state the public patience had been stretched almost to the limit.

WITH SCISSORS AND PASTE

KEEP MEXICAN QUARTERS CLEAN

State Board of Health Bulletin:—The cleaning up of Mexican quarters in California is most imperative because of the presence of typhus fever and smallpox now being brought into California from Mexico. Mexicans in California very often become "squatters," occuppying vacant tracts of land, where they live in most unsanitary fashion. Unless these camps are labor camps, the State Commission of Immigration and Housing has no jurisdiction over them. This Commission has done an untold amount of good work in cleaning up labor camps throughout the state. The responsibility for conditions in all camps, however, rests upon the local health authorities. If the cities and counties of southern California desire to insure themselves against typhus fever, it would be well to thoroughly clean up all Mexican quarters and camps.

THE NON-ADVERTISING MERCHANT

Redondo Reflex:—Whenever we hear a merchant say that he can't make advertising pay we always think of the negro who complained because his wife asked him for so much money. "What does your wife do with all the money you give her?" he was asked. "Ah don't know what she do with," replied the gentleman of color, "Cause I ain't done give her none yet."

That is the way with most merchants who can't make advertising pay. They have never done any yet. Most of them have bought a little space occasionally, and many of them have wasted it, but few of them have ever done any real advertising. The merchant who does real advertising generally makes it pay. In fact it isn't real advertising if it doesn't pay. It is an attempt to advertise without a proper foundation. Buying space is not advertising any more than buying food is nourishment unless it is properly eaten and digested. Space must be properly used to be beneficial.

The store that makes advertising pay is the one that has a policy that will bear inspection. It is one that makes policy public through proper display of its methods of selling merchandise. It is a well accepted rule in advertising circles that only the merchant who cannot make advertising pay is he who, like the colored man, has never done it yet.

FOLKS NEED A LOT OF LOVING

Folks need a lot of loving in the morning,
The day is all before, with cares best—
The cares we know, and those that give no warning;
For love is God's own antidote for fret.

Folks need a lot of loving at the noontime—
The battle lull, the moment snatched from strife—
Halfway between the waking and the croon time,
While bickering and worriment are rife.

Folks need a lot of loving at noontime—
When wearily they take them home to rest—
At slumber-song and turning-out-the-light time—
Of all the times for loving, that's the best.

Folks want a lot of loving every minute—
The sympathy of others and their smile!
Till life's end, from the moment they begin it,
Folks need a lot of loving all the while.
